Kim, Mark, Ben, and Anita play a virtual game every weekend. It's called Escape from Castle Doom. In this game, they visit a big, scary castle. A horrible troll and some scary goblins live in this castle. The children need to escape.

The children can choose avatars for the game. Kim's avatar is a strong and fast warrior princess. Mark's is an elf. He's good at climbing and archery. Ben is a wizard.

He wears a hat, and a big, black cape. Anita is a witch. She's good at magic and she likes cats.

1. What is the name of the game?

2. What lives in the castle?

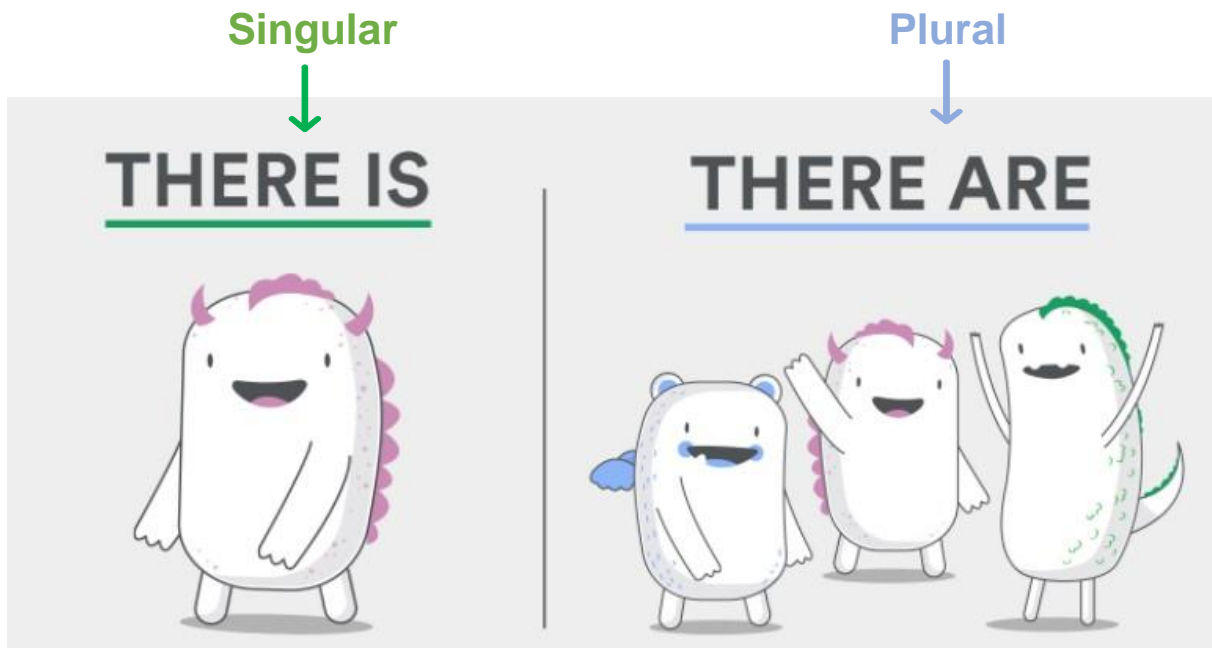

3. What is Ben's avatar?

4. What does Anita's avatar like?

Part 2

There is... / there are...

We use there is or there are to talk about existence. It means “hay” in Spanish.

Examples: There is a sword next to the table.

There is an apple on the kitchen.

There are two arrows in the box.

There are some books on the shelf.

To form negative sentences, we add not.

There isn't
(There is not)

There aren't
(There are not)

(no hay)

Examples: There isn't a wand on the table.

There isn't any juice in the fridge.

There aren't any books in the shelves.

Complete using is, isn't, are, aren't. (Completa las oraciones usando la forma correcta de is, isn't, are o aren't)

1. There _____ snow in winter.
2. There _____ two goblins in the castle.
3. There _____ any books in the bookshelf.
4. There _____ a sword on the table.
5. There _____ any cinemas in town.
6. There _____ three windows in the room.

Part 3

Asking about existence

When we ask about existence, we must put the auxiliary verb first.

These types of questions, usually have a short answer.

	IS THERE...?	ARE THERE...?
Short answer	Yes, there is No, there isn't	Yes, there are No, there aren't

Examples:

- Is there wizards in the game?
 - o Yes, there is.
- Is there any pizza left from last night?
 - o No, there isn't.
- Are there spell books in the library?
 - o Yes, there are.
- Are there swords in the tale?
 - o No, there aren't.
